In Retrospect— December Activities

The holiday season at Central is always busy, but this year seemed particularly busy with church wide events along with any ministry specific activities or celebrations that might not have been on the official calendar.

I assume you, like me, did not attend every event. So rather than reading about each event, take some time to reflect on those you did attend. How did the event

JANUARY DEVOTIONAL

Star of Wonder

By Debby Holland Diaz MA ThM

And when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea in the days of Herod the king, behold, Wise men came from the east to Jerusalem, saying Where is he that is born King of the Jews? For we saw his star in the east, and are come to worship him. And when Herod the king heard it, he was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him. And gathering together all the chief priests and scribes of the people, he inquired of them where the Christ should be born. And they said unto him, In Bethlehem of Judea: for thus it is written through the prophet, (Micah 5:2) And thou Bethlehem, land of Judea, art in no wise least among the princes of Judah: For out of thee shall come forth a governor, Who shall be shepherd of my people Israel (Matthew 2:1-6, RSV Revised Standard Version)

God has led me to begin the New Year with us meditating on the faith and courage of those Wise Men who boldly traveled to a foreign land because they wanted to worship the King whose Star they followed faithfully. May we be so bold in our faith as we follow our Lord! Let's reread Micah 5:2 as it appears fulfilled in Matthew 2:6. Isn't it exciting to see how a 300 year old prophecy from one of the minor prophets, Micah—who advocated pure worship of the Lord—comes true!

Throughout the Old and New Testament, God speaks to us through prophets, foreigners, women, men, even through a donkey! In this beloved Christmas Story, God speaks through a thing—a Star! Ask God to help you meditate on that special Star, the Divine Light, Jesus!

Come to the light, 'Tis shining for thee. The Light of The World is Jesus!—Chas.W. Fry

God protected and guided the Wise Men, whether or not they believed in The God of Abraham, Isaac, Jacob and Micah, because they were faithful to God's call. They unquestioningly followed God's Star until "it came and stood over where the young child was." (Matthew 2: 9b) and then, in verses 10 and 11, they rejoiced and worshipped Jesus! Let us continue to rejoice and worship Jesus every day of this New Year!

Let us praise God for the inspiration of the Star and the Wise Men. Let us thank God for the fulfillment of an ancient prophecy. Let us rejoice that God sent forth Jesus to be our shepherd, not an elected leader, not a military ruler, but a shepherd. Thank you God for sending your son Jesus into the world to shepherd real people long ago and to shepherd all people ever since. Let us daily follow Jesus our Shepherd!!

Savior, like a shepherd lead us. Much we need thy tender care!

—Dorothy H. Trupp

make you feel? Did the event meet your expectations or were they surpassed? If they were surpassed, why? If you were disappointed, do you know why?

It's well known that the holidays can be difficult especially if this is the first Thanksgiving, Christmas and/or New Year's without a loved one. The season can be a bag of mixed emotions from the constant veil of loss to the light of joy bursting around you. Experience it all, and most importantly don't stop breathing. Rest in our Savior's arms, bask in God's presence and let God love you. Remember God's promise to never leave or forsake you. Jesus promised, "I am with you..." in Matthew 28:20. One of my favorite Christmas cards is based on Luke 2:11 "unto us is born this day a Savior which is Christ the Lord." That's a praise moment!

The holidays are fixed and confined on the calendar i.e. November 28, December 25, January 1, but fluid in our hearts. Be thankful and joyful each day knowing that God loves you, cares for you and knows what you need even as He makes all things new.

The Great Commission Matthew 28:16-20

Then the eleven disciples went to Galilee, to the mountain where Jesus had told them to go. When they saw him, they worshiped him; but some doubted. Then Jesus came to them and said, "All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to me. Therefore go and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, and teaching them to obey everything I have commanded you. And surely I am with you always, to the very end of the age."

Keep Central's finances in prayer!

Remember this: Whoever sows sparingly will also reap sparingly, and whoever sows generously will also reap generously. Each of you should give what you have decided in your heart to give, not reluctantly or under compulsion, for God loves a cheerful giver. And God is able to bless you abundantly, so that in all things at all times, having all that you need, you will abound in every good work.

The Last Word

by Nadja Hicks

There is a river, the streams whereof shall make glad the city of God, the holy place of the tabernacles of the most High. God is in the midst of her; she shall not be moved: God shall help her, and that right early.

Psalms 46:4-5 (KJV)

There are plenty of ways to start a day. But the word start has surprising implications. It comes from an Old English word meaning leap up. Further digging reveal meanings of to rush, to fall, tumble. The word begin may seem like a synonym for start but inspect its etymology closely and find a shade in a very different color. Begin comes from an Old English term meaning to open, to undertake, and also take the first step in, and come into existence. Another characteristic of the original word is that it is only found in compound forms. Begin, in my naïve study of it, implies receptivity, yet a state of active engagement, and requires connecting to something more than itself in order to become anything at all.

Usually I begin my day with prayer. Usually. Sometimes there's an uptick in pressures trying to sneak through the cracks. Before getting out of bed, competing "voices" shout worries, hopes, distractions, responsibilities, rudely demanding attention, trying to storm the gates at the first sign of waking.

Yet Psalm 46, like a still small voice, whispers directly over circumstances both personal and shared—wars and rumors of wars, natural disasters, politics, and our own troubled hearts...

With every vividly described extreme, the psalmist emphasizes how they cannot wrestle away God's power.

Therefore, we will not fear, though the earth give way and the mountains fall into the heart of the sea, though its waters roar and foam and the mountains quake with their surging. There is a river whose streams make glad the city of God, the holy place where the Most High dwells. God is within her; she will not fall; God will help her at the break of day.

Sometimes mornings threaten to start rather than begin. They demand we leap up, rush, fall, tumble into the day. But in that immediate demanding noisy now, we can be still and know He is God. Then we can open up to what will come into existence. When we seek Him first and connect, our first step can be into the Lord's river of calm protection, the essential first step for the day to become anything at all.
